

A Long Line of Kastens

Kasten's father, William Kasten, was head of the First Wisconsin Bank in Milwaukee during the Roaring Twenties. Fred's brother, Bill, was a senior executive with Blunt, Ellis and Simmons, an investment firm headquartered in Chicago. He even had a U.S. Senator in the family – Fred's cousin, Robert Kasten, served Wisconsin and the nation from 1981–1993.

 Listen to Fred Kasten and Brent Ruppel recall the challenges of the '70s.
